

ISRAEL'S AGGRESSION AGAINST OCCUPIED PALESTINE
SEPTEMBER 13, 2015 - MARCH 01 (till 08:00AM), 2016*SPECIAL REPORT: HIGHLIGHTING EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS

On September 22nd 2015, Palestinian teenager Hadeel Hashlamon, 18 years old, was executed at an Israeli checkpoint inside the occupied city of Hebron. Her killing was justified by the Israeli regime at the same time that the killers of the Dawabsheh family, in Duma village on July 31st 2015, would not be caught by the occupying power. Daily settler attacks and military raids, in addition to forcible displacement of Palestinian population, siege and settlement construction, as documented in this report, are the daily reality of the Palestinian people living under Israel's belligerent occupation.

Incitement from the Israeli government, and its clear policies to annihilate any political horizon by destroying the two-state solution, have continued as official policies from Israel, the occupying power. Lack of action from the international community, in order to both protect the Palestinian people and hold Israel accountable for its systematic violations against Palestinian national and human rights, is the very message that continue to be sent to the Palestinian street.

This reports is a brief summary of Israeli violations that have taken place during the past five months, between September 13th 2015 and March 01st 2016.

PALESTINIANS KILLED: HIGHLIGHTING EXTRAJUDICIAL KILLINGS

Since September 13th 2015 and until March 01st 2016, Israel has killed 186 Palestinians. According to Amnesty International, some of the recorded cases amount to “extrajudicial killings.”

Example: The Case of Hadeel Al-Hashlamon

On September 22 at 7:43 am, an Israeli soldier shot several bullets at Hadeel Al-Hashlamon and killed her for allegedly ‘holding a knife’ when she was stopped at one of the many checkpoints inside Hebron’s old city. Israeli officials refuse to release the video footage that shows the entire sequence of events.

Marcel Leme, a Brazilian national and an international human rights observer, was a few meters from the scene. He presented a written report with still photos with his testimony (published on Blog Sanaúd-Voltaremos). Leme said: “The woman remained froze on the other side of the metal barrier, behind her there was a wall. She did not move, speak, scream or react. She has never tried to attack any soldiers and did not even get closer to them. Then the Israeli soldiers started opening fire at her some five or six times. The soldiers were now about 3 meters away from her.”

According to Dr. Salah Al-Hashlamon, Hadeel’s father and an Emergency Medicine Specialist, who examined his daughter’s body: “I found 10 bullets in my daughter’s body. The occupation forces left my daughter to bleed for more than 45 minutes. They hindered saving her life by the Palestinian Red Crescent, which was not allowed to treat her. They later transferred her in a humiliating and inhumane way in an ambulance that belongs to Hadassah Hospital, which had no oxygen- only ventilation. My daughter was already dead when they performed a surgery on her and opened her stomach up, cutting part of the intestines. The bullets were found in her heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, waist, thigh and feet.” Dr. Al-Hashlamon also stated that Israel could not prove that his daughter had a knife. He added: “I would give up on my just cause if the video recording at the checkpoint would prove otherwise*.”

Since Hadeel’s case, many Palestinians have been killed in cold blood for allegedly holding a knife. So far, not one investigation has been launched to determine the truth. According to Human Rights Watch, many other Palestinians have been killed by “Israel’s indiscriminate and even deliberate” use of fire on demonstrators..

Additional Examples:

Ahmad presented no imminent threat or danger to anyone. As Mahmoud Nasser, a friend and companion to Ahmad from time of leaving school until the time of his death, described: “we had nothing in our hands, we didn’t carry stones, we didn’t take part in any stone-throwing.”

As her family's car approached the checkpoint, the Israeli occupying forces shot at the car even before having the opportunity to explain Huda required immediate medical attention. Website silwanic.net published a testimony by Huda's son, who explained: "Last night at 9:30, the [Israeli] forces raided the village and randomly fired tear gas canisters toward our house. My mother inhaled gas. We brought her water and told her to rest. Around 3:30 a.m. My brother called me and told me to quickly come because my mother can't breathe. We headed towards the hospital and stopped at the checkpoint... The soldier refused to let us go through even though I begged him." He added: "I started yelling and I told him my mother is dying and I want to take her to the hospital but to no avail. Finally, the soldier next to him told him to go check and see if I am telling the truth. He saw my mom and how she was very sick. We waited for more than half an hour at the checkpoint. After the doctors checked her, they told us we came very late, we're sorry but your mother has passed away".

He was known to many, including journalists and international visitors, for his unwavering commitment to Palestinian rights. Website Muftah.org concluded in a report it published about the Dr. Hashem Al-Azzeh: "In killing Hashem Azzeh, the Israeli government has undoubtedly removed a thorn from its side. But Hashem's work does not end with his life. There are tens of thousands of people in Palestine who will carry it forward. His legacy will remain vibrant and alive, through them, no matter how hard the Israeli government may try and eliminate the Hashem's of this world."
