L'Holodomor e Gaza: i numeri raccontano un paragone impossibile

davide assael

È fuorviante il paragone fra il genocidio per fame avvenuto in Ucraina e avvolto nella nebulosa della censura staliniana con l'assedio di Gaza imposto da Netanyahu. Durante le operazioni militari nella striscia sono entrate 1.759.599 tonnellate di aiuti via terra, pari a 91.047 camion; 7.385 tonnellate via aria, 10.450 bancali; 9.710 tonnellate via mare, 725 carichi. Bloccare gli aiuti è infame ma in nessuno scenario bellico al mondo esistono le cifre sopra riportate

Riassunto: in Ucraina noi giudeo-bolscevichi ne abbiamo sterminato più di 6 milioni, qui ne stiamo sterminando 2,5 milioni, non c'è paragone

La ong inventata da Israele per controllare la distribuzione del cibo a Gaza

È la Gaza Humanitarian Foundation, che nei piani israeliani diventerà presto l'unica a operare nella Striscia

Il governo israeliano vuole assegnare entro maggio tutta la distribuzione del cibo ai palestinesi assediati dentro alla Striscia di Gaza a una sola organizzazione non governativa, la Gaza Humanitarian Foundation (Ghf), che è stata registrata in Svizzera l'11 febbraio di quest'anno e, come nota il Financial Times, non ha ancora presentato una lista pubblica dei suoi finanziatori.

La fondazione, che è sostenuta dal punto di vista diplomatico dagli Stati Uniti e sarebbe la sola a essere autorizzata da Israele a operare dentro Gaza, dovrebbe sostituire tutte le altre organizzazioni che fino a oggi si erano occupate di distribuire il cibo e altri generi di prima necessità, come le medicine, ai circa due milioni di palestinesi di Gaza. Sono circa duecento ong più i loro partner, e quindici agenzie delle Nazioni Unite.

Israel Really Is As Evil As It Looks

A poll released earlier this year found that only three percent of Jewish Israelis oppose the planned ethnic cleansing of Gaza on moral grounds. That's right: three percent. Three out of every one hundred people.

2-3 NEW YORK AMERICAN—A Paper for People Who Think—SUNDAY, MARCH 3, 1935

SIX MILLION DIE OF STARVATION IN RUSSIA

ORPHAN'S TEARS—To soothe hunger's pang, the Russian father (lying dead at left) and his young son (standing weeping at right) were unable to watered grains of wheat like harvested fowl on the Soviet Collective Farm at Bagdov, in the Ukraine, "granary of Russia." The grain had been left from the Spring plowing. The father stepped too close to forbidden territory, when suddenly and without warning he was shot in the back by a Red soldier and left to die where he fell. Mother father's son had turned meat for months. Their sole subsistence was a pound of bread they received daily for their long, hard day's work on the farm under the harrowing gaze of Red guards. This photograph was taken by Mr. Walker.

GHASTLY—Outside Bagdov, Thomas Walker, who obtained these pictures in 1934, came upon a party of three peasants and three horses in varying stages of starvation. One peasant had just died the night before. One horse had just died and another lay down that was too weak to get on its legs. These peasants told him that they had been at the Collective Farm and had begged officials for wheat straw to feed the horses and for water. Both requests were refused and the peasants received no more grain. The peasants and their horses had been starved, but the GPU had requisitioned practically the entire harvest. They had not obtained any more during the year. They started searching the dead horse at Walker left.

Reds Confiscate Crops Of Ukraine Peasants

STARVATION stalks through the Ukraine section of Soviet Russia, leaving a ghastly trail of death and agony. The Ukraine is the most fertile grain producing district in Russia. The facts presented herewith were obtained by Thomas Walker, an American newspaperman, now resident in London, at the peril of his life. When Mr. Walker entered Russia last Spring (1934) he arranged in a camera. The photographs were obtained at that time under the most adverse and dangerous possible circumstances. The evidence they present is more grim and graphic than words.

By THOMAS WALKER, noted journalist and traveler and resident of Russia. Affairs, who for several years has traveled in the Ukraine of Soviet Russia.

I HAVE recently toured the Ukraine district of Soviet Russia, where 6,000,000 peasants have perished from starvation in the eighteen months, due to excessive take on their crops by the Bolshevik Government. Last Winter, Red Army soldiers, under orders from Moscow took so much of the crops that peasants were unable to feed themselves and livestock through the Winter. I visited from Moscow into the Ukraine district, the past year and reported on the starvation that they had died, with a few exceptions that those children the crop of the region. A further on the Ukraine there comes for bread and meat for their families.

Starving Babies
An Agonizing Sight

The famine in the Ukraine has been described as a scene of horror. The children are so weak that they can barely stand. They are so thin that their ribs are visible. They are so weak that they cannot walk. They are so weak that they cannot cry. They are so weak that they cannot die.

Planned Process Of Extinction

The famine in the Ukraine is not a natural disaster. It is a planned process of extinction. The Bolshevik Government has deliberately starved the Ukrainian peasants to death. They have taken all the crops and have given nothing back. They have taken all the land and have given nothing back. They have taken all the lives and have given nothing back.

SOVIET PASTORAL, '34—This was a common sight along the highway near Khatyn, in the Ukraine, Soviet Russia, in the late Spring and early Summer of 1934, writes Mr. Walker.
